March 26th at 5:00pm

Join Veronica N. Chapman, Founder of Black Children's Book Week, for a workshop where you will learn how to generate and act on ideas that are authentic to your lived experiences. You will also consider how your gifts and talents can be employed to make your greatest contributions to the world. The workshop ends with a reading of Veronica's children's book, I Know I Can!, a book that inspires both children and adults alike.

Veronica is an entrepreneur and author, having written and produced a motivational play for teens, Ancestors Inc., and published three books, The Advent of Planet Martyr: An Innovative Social Commentary, and children's books I Know I Can! and King Khalid is Proud.

A graduate of Spelman College (B.A. in Spanish) and Babson College (M.B.A.), Veronica commits her gifts and ideas to improving the world. To fulfill her commitment, she founded Boxxout Enterprises where she designs creative solutions for social change like Black Children's Book Week and others.
